The management and dissemination of BWC recordings is a rather, albeit unnecessarily, contentious issue in public safety. Whether or not the video shall be released according to the law is one matter while the decision to voluntarily release it is another. These issues are often conflated with the preservation of videos as "evidence" - a separate matter altogether from public records law.

What Will Be Covered

In this 2 day course, in-depth practical information including legal requirements and best practices combined with a hands-on policy development exercise will be provided by subject matter experts from law enforcement. Topics include:

- + BWC agency Philosophy, Policy, Privacy and Procedure
- + The 3 consumers of video: the agency, the courts, and the public
- + Transparency: why have body-worn cameras?
- + Developing policy: activation/de-activation, categorization, retention, notifications, release
- + Public records/FOIA laws

Who should attend:

Anyone who manages,
publishes or receives
requests for video records.

A 100% learning experience.

PRI provides the ultimate training in law enforcement information management. Over 1000 agencies trained since 2008.

COURSE COMMENTS

"The class had more useful information than any training I have found."

"We thoroughly enjoyed the style and presentation of this class. It was easy to understand and the instructor made the class entertaining. Never a dull moment."

"The class and flexibility was great. We had a great group who lent their years of expertise to the discussion. Loved it the way it is."

Records management seminar is a must for anyone who deals with records--very informative class, and extremely knowledgeable instructor. Send your employees--it's worth every penny.

Sunrise Police Dept.

"The class was great. We just want to thank you for all the information. I have been to other trainings, but I can say this training has been the best I've ever been to."

University of the Pacific Police Dept.

"This class exceeded my expectations! We have already scheduled future training with PRI Management Group. We are looking forward to the next class"

"The seminar was outstanding, I hope to make some changes here in my department with some of what I have taken away from this class."

"Beyond my expectations, because honestly...I did not expect there to be so much information about this."
